The Tata Maru, Japanese liner, was sunk with more than 400 passengers aboard this morning in the sea of Japan off the Coast of Siberia.

It was feared that the loss of life would approximate all major marine disasters in recent years.

The ship was reported to have struck a floating mine.

The Japanese government said that 17 of her nationals had lost their lives in the sinking and a note has been dispatched to Moscow asking for an explanation with sincerity.

The American Legion in Cameron had dispatched a telegram to President Roosevelt insisting that he dismiss from his cabinet Francis (Pinkie) Perkins, Secretary of Labor.

P. W. Davis, a member of the Local Post, read the telegram at a meeting of the Rotary Club on Wednesday and the Club voted to send the President a telegram insisting uon an immediate solution of the strike situation and Carrol Wood, President of the Club, named a committee of three composed of J. B. White, P. W. Davis and John C. Andres to draft the telegram to the President.

RUSSIA SENDS NEW AMBSSADOR TO U S

Maixm Litvanoff was named today Ambassador to the United States by Joseph Stalin in Moscow.

Litvanoff will succeed Constantine Oumansky, present Ambassador in Washington.

The appointment of Litvanoff was widely publicized in the news of the day. It is interesting to note that he was an early disciple of Carl Marx the Socialist. Early in his brilliant career he was exiled from Russia for his proletarian activities.

He occupied a position of power in the government of Russia at the time Stalin decided to co-operate with Hitler and Mussolini and when the accord was signed in Moscow with the Axis powers Litvanoff passed out of the picture because he was bitterly opposed to cooperating with Hitler in anything.

He has always been an advocate of close co-operation between the Democracies and openly advocated war upon Germany to aid France. Now he comes to Washington as Stalin is being attacked by Hitler.

Litvanoff is a Jew and the son of an obscure Russian business man.

The Sellers witnessed the Rodeo Club show in Wilson-Ledbetter Park Sunday and thought it was great sport. Mr. Sellers is a horse fancier, owns horses and enjoys riding. He was surprised at the spunk shown by the "youngsters" and remarked "It beats a movie."

TICKET SALES BY 11 A. M. FRIDAY VITAL

The best news of the week.

A special train for football fans to the annual Yoemen-Tiger game in Belton Friday night.

The train leaves Cameron at 6:15 p. m. and will arrive in Belton at 7:10 p. m. in plenty of time for fans to get to the park. The game starts at 7:45.

The train will stop at Buckholts and at Temple.

The Athletic Council voted last night to contract for the train. It is the best news of the week but there is the vitally important detail of buying tickets. The Council had to guarantee 300 tickets. The fare is only 60c plus a tax of 3c.

If tickets in required number are not purchased by 11 a. m. Friday the train will be canceled and some 150 or 200 school children will be greatly disappointed.

"It is their holiday," said John R. Hays, President of the Athletic Council.

You wouldn't want to disappoint them and neither would I, so we will all buy tickets. The plans is to dispose of around 150 tickets at the high school and then sell 150 in town.

Do not wait. Get behind this train. Back up your team, back up your band and your Athletic Council and your school.

Tickets are already on sale at the Cameron Hotel, Milam Hotel, Palace of Sweets, New Cameron Drug Co., and High School.

The train is scheduled to leave Belton at 10:30 and arrive in Cameron at 11 p. m.

The Band Parents Association will sell refreshments aboard the train. Police protection will be provided for cars parked at the Santa Station.

CAMERON BOY DIES WHEN BOMBER CRASHES AT SEA

WAS ABOARD NAVAL BOMBER THAT CRASHED

War in the Atlantic had taken its first toll in Cameron today as the Navy Department announced that Coy M. Weems lost his life when a huge bomber of the Atlantic patrol crashed into the with 12 men aboard.

Announcement of the death of Weems was contained in a telegram from the Navy Recruiting Station in Corpus Christi to Waco and relayed here by telephone to Roy Weems, who is an uncle of the dead airman.

The message was received at 10 p. m. Monday. It was not known whether the body had been recovered and all aboard may have been lost.

It was the third report from the Navy Department within 2 weeks of a major disaster. Two officers and 9 men of the crew and also an army officer, Lt. W. P. Robinson, aboard the ship also lost his life.

Coy M. Weems is listed as an Aviation Ordinance man, First Class whose address is at Ocean View, Virginia.

Weems enlisted in the Naval Air Service 3 years ago and his experience made him a valuable man aboard these types of bombing craft.

He was 26 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Weems of Maysfield and a grand nephew of A. N. Weems of Cameron.

Weems graduated from Yoe High School in the class of 1933. He was employed at the Cheeves Bros. dry goods store in Cameron and sometime later operated the Humble Service Station now owned by F. E. Jackson. He enlisted in the Naval Air Corps in 1935.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Weems; 3 sisters Mrs. Von Hickman, Mrs. Dorothy Mae Loftin of Cameron and Mrs. Apal Blackful of Dallas; and two brothers, Carl Weems of Brownwood and Buster Weems at Maysfield.

Relatives here were without advice on whether the body had been recovered and if so whether it would be sent to Cameron for burial.

The Navy Department did not announce the location of the disaster of the ship. It is presumed to have been on war duty along the Atlantic sea lanes where American supplies are being moved to Iceland for transfer to Great Britain.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR POULTRY SHOW HERE

Central Texas Poultry Show will be held November 20, 21 and 22, in the Werner Building on the square at Cameron. This show is an annual show sponsored by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of promoting more interest in poultry and poultry products.

It is hoped this show may help the farmers of this territory to see more clearly the benefits and profits that may be derived from the keeping of poultry on the farm.

The show is intended primarily for farmers to show their birds in competition with other such farmers for the educational benefit they may derive from so doing and the cash prize they can win. Commercial breeders of poultry are invited to show their birds but they may not compete against farmers and no cash prizes are offered for them.

By entering his birds in the show a farmer has a chance to see how his individual birds compare with those of other farmers and to determine some of the things that he might do to better his flock.

A premium list is being offered for the farmers this ear. All first places will pay 75c; second places, 50c and third places 25c, which makes it possible for a farmer to win $9 on a complete showing of fine breed of poultry.

The show will be divided into two ner to be served in the gymnasium at the high school. The ceremonies will follow the routine with a six gun salute at 11 o'clock and a march to the banquet hall.

At night a Legion Dance will be held at National Hall.

Tickets have been sold for the annual dinner and the public may share in this celebration by attending the dinner.

FAIRMONT ANNOUNCES BIG POULTRY PROGRAM

A development of far reaching economic value to Milam county was announced here Thursday by the Fairmont Creamery Co., through its local manager, B. Bryan.

Beginning after January 1, 1942, the company will build 80 units for housing baby chicks on farms. Forty of these units will be located at Rockdale and 40 will be located near Cameron.

W. W. Dayton of Omaha, Neb., vice president and general manger of the Fairmont Creamery Company, has been in Cameron and all arrangements have been made for the development. The plan was tried in a limited way last spring and resulted in a good showing.

The ultimate plans of the company are to build a poultry industry here similar to the famous Smiley, Texas, set up which has become the second largest market in America.

The 1942 plans call for an outlet of about 100,000 broilers produced under company supervision.

The company will build the houses, sell the feed and chicks to farmers on time, supervise raising and provide a market. This plan has been responsible for the great Smiley production.

The 40 buildings contemplated will be paid for by the Company and will be placed according to application and ability to conduct a successful chicken business.

While other communities were getting defense industries and military posts Cameron is to have what in the years to come will bring prosperity the year round to farms. Poultry is one of the greatest sources of income aside from livestock on the American farm.

Squirrel Hunters Eat Pecans; Host Gets Two

Gibb Terry entertained a party of squirrel hunters Sunday at his Sandy Creek home and proceeded to kill the only two squirrels in the neighborhood.

Included in the party were J. D. Smalley, John Rayburn Mode, Hubert Clore and John Bryan.

When the hunters arrived Mr. Terry placed them at vantage points in the bottom where the pecans were thickest and went out and brought in two squirrels, one of which was a black squirrel.

Only one other black squirrel has been known to be killed in this section in recent years.

WRITES FROM HAWAII

While on leave and en route to Hawaii I dropped in at your office to have you discontinue your paper to Galveston. You stated that you would be glad to send the paper to me over here, so I am writing to give you my new address. This is one of the most beautiful spots I have ever seen except one that is in our Dear Old 48 States and that is Yosemite Valley. I came by there en route to San Francisco and spent only one night but saw the sights of a life time. If you have never been to this spot and ever have the occasion to do so, by all means take this opportunity.

I hope all is well in our small but swell city. I love that little town but duty calls me elsewhere. So try to keep things going until I and the rest of we boys are away may get back and take up where you and the other fine men of our town left off. So until we meet again, I am as ever.

Very truly yours.
ANDREW W. LUCAS,

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. George Schiller honored Mrs. Jack Vick, the former Miss Verna Mae McLane, with a miscellaneous shower at her home Saturday evening at 2:30 p. m.

The patriotic theme was carried out with the decorations being red, white and blue. Games of 42 were played.

The bride found gifts in a most unusual way, being a form of the old game, "hide and go seek." Each guest was asked to draw a number from a hat and go find the gift with that number on it. In the meantime the bride had to go to the furtherest end of the house so the guests would have time to get the gifts and put them in a beautifully decorated basket in the living room before the bride returned. The bride drew a slip of paper which told her to go sit in a certain chair in a certain room and there she found the basket of gifts. She opened them and expressed her appreciation to all for their kindness.

Refreshments of blue and white sandwiches, red cake and coffee were served to the 35 guests present.

A TRIBUTE TO A FINE BOY
HOWARD MAC LAWSON

Only the Higher Wisdom knows the day span of a Wild White Rose.

"To him that bath, shall be added; and to him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away."

This truth is not readily understood.

Men throughout all of the ages have found it hard to resolve and to resign themselves, but somehow in the legacy of that influence which has filled our lives with values too big to measure, we can and do find the Ba'm that was in Gillead.

The years come and go and leave their marks upon us.

Some live for the sake of memories while others perish in the long way that is life.

The things we see and the things we feel, we accept. Therefore it is sometimes difficult and beyond human faculty to attain a degree of faith which can readily accept the inevitable.

Realistic things like love and life and laughter and tears are more deeply a part of us than theory or circumstance, and it is well that this is so.

I am thinking now of a lad of 17 who died too young.

The philosopher tells us that death often discriminates. We do not know, for we only read.

When Howard Mac Lawson died, his passing was more than the average of sorrow, to which we become accustomed through the operation of the inexorable laws of nature and time.

He was so unusual in the composite of his nature he was more than a boy of 17.

To him responsibility was a natural element and therefore we think of him as having lived to mature years and recall the immortal words of Edwin Markham, who said "When he died it was like a giant tree falling, and looking up again you saw it had left a lonesome place against the sky."

In tribute to one whose brilliance was better exemplified in the crucible of living, I choose to remember the comradeship between father and son which elevated them to an enviable position in the community of Buckholts where neighbors and friends learned much about that mysterious tie that binds, and about which no poet or philosopher has yet achieved the genius to express.

Howard Mac Lawson was an ideal son. He had the full confidence of father and mother. So beautiful and so complete was the trust, that he walked upon a stage far ahead of the average boy, and under no circumstance were they apprehensive of his judgment, his solidarity or loyalty.

Such loves and such relations are too few in the economy of human life.

It is a story that can not be told adequately in words. In the gloom that enshrouds us we can only project our minds and feel the heart throb in the direction of a life and a relationship so Devine.

Much has been said to praise him and much could yet be said. It is not now so much that we think of him who has escaped to a better world than this, as it is of those who sit in the shadow of great bereavement. Whatever may possess us in the way of sorrow it is splendid to think of a tradition so fine, which now belongs to Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Lawson and their daughters who knew 17 years of inspiration expressed in loyalty and attentions so numerous they are a part of us, all mirrowed in frank, fearless blue eyes that sparkled with the zest of life and led him the great way so that all the world may know that here was a son and a brother who approximated the ultimate in human achievement.

He lived as he died, unafraid. To him was given much and he gave back in full measure from all the talents which a generous Creator had invested in him.

As a student he was brilliant; as an athlete he excelled; in the arena at his much loved sport of rodeo, he took his chances with the best; the worst performer in that rugged colorful battle between man and beast was none too bad for him. As a youth of 17 he had made his mark in that world of colorful danger that still is dear to the hearts of the American people. In the home his spirit earned the devotion of those who loved him best.

In the slanting rays of an October sun, as we stood close by a little plot of earth where sooner or later must come the great and the near great; the humble and the proud; we read in the soft radiance of each blossom a tribute as fine and as sincere as any ever expressed by mortals.

Tears that scald the cheek are bitter indeed. Often understanding escapes us but the poignant certainty of loss we feel.

When the cup has been emptied and life that was, seems empty; when the sun sets flare forlorn along the path that is dim and lonely, the light that fails is all we have of human strength; it seems we turn to something higher, though it be in the direction of inspiration, we cling ultimately to a blind faith that is hope, and to the realities that we know because those we love have lived and died.

Man throughout all the centuries has sought in times like these that Higher Wisdom that notes the Sparrow's fall and comprehends a universe too infinite for mortal eyes. Whatever befalls us in the conglomerate of confused feelings, we must live by that vision which all things apart, teaches us that right is better than wrong; kindness better than cruelty.

As we lift our eyes, still moist from tears that fall upon the dust, though the immediate understanding of it all escapes us, we know that somehow, someday, we will find the explanation down the road, at the end of the lane.

This is the sun's one hour of glory;
Going in radiance away to the West;
Leaving the echo of a golden story
With the waves and the wet sand saying:
"This is best"

It is beauty's way and love's way,
To pass in splendor.
As shadows of sadness drift across the sky,
And over all the sea is a loneliness as tender
As the first lost kiss and the last good bye.

WITH THE BAPTIST

Last Sunday morning was a happy time in our church when every one responded to the nickle offering.

After the nickles were counted there was one hundred and twelve dollars in nickles. We are grateful to each and every one that made this great mission offering possible. In all we had an offering amounting to one hundred and forty dollars. Our offering through the Sunday School was down some what of the goal that we are supposed to reach each Sunday. May we all work together in carrying on the Lord's work. There was a good crowd out for Sunday School, a total of 291. The Auditorium was full for both services Sunday. In Training Union Sunday night we had 110.

We would like to take this opportunity of telling each and every one that wants to go to Fort Worth November 20, to be sure and let Bro. Cain or Bro. Archer or Bro. Sanders know next week so we can arrange the cars.

The price will be a dollar for the adults for the round trip ticket and 50c for younger people. Don't forget that next Sunday evening we are to go over to Rockdale for our District Elemination Contest for this district. The ime for the program to start will be 3 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 9.

The Golden Text is: "Put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; and be renewed in the spirit of your mind" (Ephesians 4:22, 23.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson--Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus". (Galatians 3:26.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritually to understand that there is but one creator, God, unfolds all creation, confirms the Scriptures, brings the sweet assurance of no parting, no ain, and of man deathless and perfect and eternal" (page 69.)

114 MEN ABOARD MAY HAVE BEEN LOST AT SEA

The U. S. Destroyer Rheuben James was torpedoed and sung west of Iceland early Friday by a German submarine, it was announced by the Navy Department in Washington.

No details were available. Only the sinking had been learned by government officials.

The ship, a world War No. 1 Destroyer, carried 114 Officers and men. All may have been lost, though rescue was thought possible because the destroyer was on duty escorting merchant vessels.

President Roosevelt at a Press Conference early Friday said he had no information other than the ship had been torpedoed and sunk. He said that if the ship was sunk by a German submarine he could see no reason why relations with Germany should be changed. Questioned by reporters he declined to elaborate.

Inference was that the President is determined not to go to war no matter what the provocation.

The Rheuben James was the 13th American ship to be attacked or sunk.

Berlin said the Nazi had no report on the sinking. London said new types of submarines operated by the Germans are operating in American territorial waters and are in Baffins Bay off Canada. The Rheuben James was sunk went of Iceland toward the Canadian coast.

WITH THE BAPTIST

"We are laborers together with God" says the scripture. Our Sunday School attendance for last Sunday was 285, Training Union attendance 84, and General offering $130. Surely we are not satisified with this report for if God be our partner in this work it ought to show enlargment every Sunday.

NICKLES FOR HEAVEN! yes that is what you will see in our service next Sunday morning as all our people bring together a nickel birthday offering. The plan is to give to missions a nickel for every year of your existence. Say for instance our Sunday School Superintendent is 100 years old, which he is more or less. He would bring 100 nickels for missions making thereby a total of five dollars. Let us all co-operate to make this a great mission offering. We gave $125 last year to this offering let us give more this year. Let us do more this year! We must go forward! A picture of the representatives of each department of our Sunday School will be taken after the morning services.

Our church family has been saddened this week by the sorrow that has come to three of our families. Our heartfelt sympathy goes to the Jeter, the Lutner, and the Wilson family in their sad hour. May God's loving kindness and tender mercy bless them.

9:45 In Bible School we study "Ways of Dealing With Sin."

U. S. Tells Finland She Must Stop War On Russia at Once

The United States government through Secretary of State Cordell Hull, told Finland Monday that she must stop war on Russia or forfeit the frinendship of the United States.

Last year when Russia was attacking Little Finland the United States would take no action against Russia but condemned the action. Now Russia needs help against Germany and the agression the Soviet unleashed on Little Finland is forgotten.

From military angles if the Fins should stop their war on Russia Red army tropps could be transfered to other fronts.

Finland is the only European country that never defaulted in its debt to America.

KILLEEN WIN OVER YOEMEN 7 TO 0

A slow, disappointing game with the Killeen Kangaroos taking a hard fought battle 7 to 0 from the Yoemen Friday night shaped up a grand climax for District 22 title.

The Taylor Ducks, undefeated, will play Killeen on Nov. 21 at Killeen.

The Kangaroos topped the Yoemen in first downs but their vaunted runnig game led by Tommy Bishop, all state candidate, looked at times like an ordinary team running plays.

The field was very heavy and a cold wind swpet the stands as the game got under way 15 minutes late with officials delaying the start, They did not arrive in time. Cameron fans and the band were late in arriving. Attendance was not up to standard.

The game was only a few minutes old when Tommy Bishop, playing half back, on a hand off from Tolliver, took the ball around Cameron's left end and for 25 yards and a touchdown. The play was called back and Killeen penalized 5 yards for off sides. Bishop was disapointing. A rumor spread that he was deliberately held out of hard play for the Taylor game which can give Killeen only a tie if the Kangaroos win. His punting was poor and the Cameron line, playing jam up football kept him bottled up for most of the night. Once he punted and the ball sailed off into the creek bottom some 150 yards away and was not recovered.

Killeen scored a second touchdown which counted, in the second quarter after the Kangaroos had recovered a Cameron fumble on the Yoemen 35 yard line. Tolliver who starred in the backfield, maneuvered the ball down to the Yoemen 1 foot line and on third down Bishop took it over around the Cameron left end and nobdy touched him.

The Yoemen never got beyond the Killeen 35 yard line but showed power and speed when they were deep in their own territory. The Kangaroo line was tough.

The Cameron line led by Salach, Terry and Stidham, stopped the Killeen running attack for the first time his year. The punting of Bobby Hays ket the Kangaroos back on their heels in the last quarter and was largely responsible for the last half stand off in the statistics.

Torno getting the passing role for the night tried 15 and completed 6 but for only nominal total gains. His running was good and Nicholson brought up the number of first downs.

First downs were in Killeen's favor 9 to 7. The Kangaroos kept at their line play. The only pass attempt was a tactical blunder by the flawless Tolliver. Killeen was leading 7 to 0 and he passed from his own 18 yards line on second down. The Kangaroos managed to get 223 yards all night.

The Yoemen concentrated their defensive effort against Bishop. Owen Stidham, playing a superb tackle won an all district birth on The Herald's conference eleven. Yes sir, no matter if he did bust out of all that weak equipment he had on. His specialty is popping off headgears. He had his arms full of Tom Bishop more times than one.

Rusty Terry was a defensive as well as an offensive standout at guard. He matched 5 feet seven with 6 feet two in Bishop's favor but the Blonde Bomber didn' get through left guard position.

J. J. Parma Purcases Collins Building Here

J. J. Parma, of the Parma Radio, Shop, has purchased the Collin's Building which is now occupied by Local Board No. 2 for the Selective Service System.

The building was purchased from the Pioneer Building and Loan Association of Waco. Mrs. Parma joined in the purchase of the building.

Sometime in the future Mr. Parma plans to move his radio business to this building from his present location in Santa Fe town.

Mr. Parma told a representative of the Daily Herald Monday morning that the building was sold on the strength of the classified ad which was run by the Pioneer Building and Loan Association in the Midget. He read the ad on Saturday afternoon, sent a postcard through the mail that night, and on Tuesday a representative of the Waco firm came down and the deal was closed, with all papers being finally signed up today.

Mr. Parma obtained the building at a bargain price and is a good investment. The building was erected by the late Max Collins several years prior to his death and adjoins the Hefley-Stedman Motor Company and the Markham Service Station only a half block from the Federal Building.

JAPS RUSH ENVOY TO AMERICA

DIPLOMAT ON WAY BY AIR TO AMERICA

The Japanese government is sending a diplomatic representative to the United States.

The Ace diplomat, Carusu, who has an American wife, boarded a fast plane at an undisclosed point on the Japanese Coast this morning and is now winging his way to Washington.

In view of the 7 points which the Japanese projected on yesterday as the only basis on which America can avoid war in the far east, the diplomat's mission is regarded as important enough to overshadow all other events of the day.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull held a lengthy telephone conversation with Tokyo this morning and shortly after the tall Tennesseenian had concluded the talk, it was announced from Tokyo that a Representative of Premier Tojo's government had left the capital for America.

At the same time is was stated in Takyo by a government spokesman that the mission to the United States should not be interpreted as an effort to appease the United States.

From London it was said that the British desire peace with Japan and a peaceful settlement of Japanese-American differences.

It will be interesting to note what happens.

When Carusu left Japan this morning the voice of the Orient was heard to say "This is the mission on which a show down will come between America and Japan."

The German high Command announced this morning that Nazi troops are winthin 30 miles of Moscow at one point and they have broken through to the Black Sea in the Crimea.

The Russian High Command said that their troops are holding in all fronts and the situation is no worse than it has been for several days and may have been improved by severe counter attacks on the Central front.

The Germans have launched a new offensive against Leningrad.

In Washington Sidney Hillman, OPM Director, called upon all workers in America to return to their jobs. Hillman was born in Russia.

A Moscow report said that Hitler has thrown his last reserve into the battle and if he fails he can not muster more strength.

JAPS MAKE SEVEN POINT DEMAND ON U S

Japan served notice on the United States today that this country must either step aside or face the alternative of war in the far east.

The official Japanese press delivered the warning of Premier General Tojo in a 7 point declaration as follows:

No. 1. The United States must cease at once all aid to the Chung King government in China.

No. 2. The United States must hands off China and leave the Chinese free to deal with the Japanese.

No. 3. The United States Government must recognize the government of Manchuko and thereby acquiese in the Japanese grab of that province from China.

No. 4. The United States Government must cease the establishment of naval and air bases adjacent to Japanese territory which the Japanese interpret as military encirclement.

No. 5. The United States Government must recognize the right of Japan to govern in the far east and must consent to the so called coprosperity sphere in greater East Asia.

nomic penetration of China.

No. 7. The United States Government must immedately lift embargos on vital materials to Japan and restore normal trade relations.

Said the official Japanese press: "If the United States does not meet these demands she will face the certain alternative of war."

This is the first detailed program enunciated by the new military government of Japan and in view of the present relations between the two governments this declaration comes with unusual significance.

President Roosevelt in a frank statement three months ago said that he had been appeasing the Japanese for more than 2 years, steadily backing up, running away, placating, pussy-footing, bending the knee, and sacrificing American prestige in order to avoid open conflict with this far eastern power.

The wire walkers in Washington are now apparently face to face with realism in the far East. Nothing would please Japan more than to see

No. 6. The United States Government must cease forging economic restrictions against Japan and consent to the closed door in China by acknowledging the right of the Japanese to a free hand in the eco- the United States meet these demands and pull out of the far East. On the other hand, nothing would displease Hitler more than for the United States to continue to appease Japan because the obvious implication of the Axis alliance is to force at the proper moment, a war between the United States and Japan.

The American people, like the British people, are getting a little sick at the stomach on appeasement of pagan bullies.

The Adminstration in Washington has preceeded with great caution but by its own word has become an apeaser to fit in to the picture of weakness which the democracies have found convenient when all the world needs a champion.

Special Train to Belton Believed Assured for Friday

A special train to carry football fans to the annual Yoemen-Tiger game in Belton Friday night was practically assured today when J. R. Hays, President of the Athletic Council, said students in school were in favor of the train.

The Council will meet tonight and make a final decision. The fare would be 60c plus a tax of 3c for the round trip and the running time according to W. DuBois, Santa Fe Agent, is 55 minutes.

Mr. Hays said tickets will be placed on sale in plenty of time for all to be accomodated and it is up to the public to purchase tickets in such numbers as will guarantee the train.

If an insufficient number of tickets are sold the train will be canceled, he said.

The band, the pep squad, together with school pupils, will make up a large percent of the total tickets to be sold and the people of the City should show their loyalty to their school, their band, pep squad, and the football team by making this train a success.

TWO COUNTRIES ARE ALREADY FIGHTING

Nazi Germany declared today that a state of war exists between the Reich and the United States of America.

The statement came from a spokesman of the Government at a press conference in which newspaper representatives as well as diplomatic representatives were present.

The Germans charged that President Roosevelt is responsible for the war by declaring that he started it with shooting.

Speculation was engaged in by this country regarding the possibility that the United States navy has already attacked and sunk a number of German submarines.

The statement was regarded as significant, especially in view of the fact that Japan today issued an ultimatum to the United States when Premier Tojo declared that unless the embargo is lifted and Japan is permitted o obtain supplies and normal trade relations with the United States, she will have to go to war.

Economic encirclement must be stopped, the Japs said. United States has appeased Japan for almost 3 years just as this country has appeased Germany by retaining the neutrality law.

In Washington there was some indication the Senate might be considering a declaration of war, unless Mr. Roosevelt prefers the Axis type of operation to conduct a war without saying so.

The Germans are renewing vigorous attacks in the rich industrial area of Russia and the Reds have admitted reverses. The Germans are believed to be nearing a show down in the Donet Valley region where most of Russia's industries are located.

There was no indication that more than 40 of the crew of the Rheuben James had been rescued from the waters of Iceland where it was sunk on Friday by a German submarine.

NAZI NEAR CAUCACUS OIL FIIELD IN RUSSIA

The Nazi have penetrated to within 80 miles of the rich Caucacus oil fields in Eastern Russia following their break through on the Crimean front.

The long expected British resistance to the German drive to the Caucacus, may now open up another front for Hitler.

As these alarming reports came in from the Crimea the Reds were counter attacking with such fury around Moscow that the Germans have been driven back several miles. The reds are holding the Germans on the central front but the approach to the capital through the Donets region was still unchecked.
